

What does your care team look like?

Our team-based approach to care will support you with a variety of caregivers who can better focus on your individual needs in the most convenient and supportive ways possible. Your primary care team will include a physician, nurse practitioners and/or physician assistants and nursing staff, each with a specific role in supporting your care and health.

This team-based approach can often deliver patient care via telephone or through Patient Online Services. When you need a face-to-face visit, the care team will connect you with the right team member for your concerns and the best route of care for your individual need.

Your care team may also include:

- Pharmacists who can help you manage medications.
- Behavioral or mental health specialists, patient educators and dietitians to help you reach your wellness goals.
- Specialists located at your primary care clinic or available by eConsult, helping you avoid additional appointments and reduce your health care costs.
